SINGAPORE: It was a thanksgiving of sorts, as ex-offenders and inmates, wishing to turn over a new leaf, staged a concert on Friday evening to celebrate the beginning of a new life.

The Yellow Ribbon Concert at the Singapore Expo celebrated "New Hope, New Dreams".

Hope, forgiveness and second chances were the recurring themes at the concert, and giving the performers their full support and motivation were local celebrities like Koh Chieng Mun, Mark Lee, Jai and Project Superstar winners.

This concert is part of the Yellow Ribbon Project.

This year's campaign, spread over the month of September, encourages the community to give ex-offenders a chance to re-start their lives. - CNA /dt
